

Sharing stories, finding solutions

KWP presents Koorie Family History Workshop

This workshop is for mob looking to find out more about tracing their family tree, or exploring their family history.

You will learn the basics of researching family tree and family history and resources where they can explore further.

This workshop is run by Jenny Bates, the Manager of the Koorie Family History Service (KFHS) at the Koorie Heritage Trust and has worked in the Unit since 2006. The KFHS provides a highly confidential, client-based research and referral service for Stolen Generations Survivors and the Victorian Koorie Community.
