

Sharing stories, finding solutions

KWP presents

Emu Egg Carving with Wax Treasures Feathers

Come and express your creativity with the eggcellent Amanda from Wax Treasures Feathers. Amanda is a proud Yuin woman, artist, healer, and small business owner.

This workshop will include everything you need to carve your own emu egg.

Carving continues today with dozens of artists depicting important animals, people, traditions, and scenes from the past and present. For Aboriginal people, they also reinforce connections to other animals, and especially the emu, as well as to the land.

Workshop details

When: Thursday 4th April

Time: 11.00am - 1:00pm (Lunch provided)

Where: Koori Women's Place
292 Hoddle St, Abbotsford

KWP workshops are free and open to all Aboriginal women

Please register by contacting our Koori Women's Place

How to find us: Hoddle st buses and Victoria Park station are with an easy walk of Djirra's KWP. Free 4 hour parking is available on Lulie St, Abbotsford.

1800 DJIRRA

www.djirra.org.au

@DjirraVIC

f Djirra

Instagram DjirraVIC